

Case study

The University of Greenwich

Location: Dreadnought Library.

External redecoration.

Scope of works

- Our schedule of works included window care repairs prior to decorations and general overhaul of all sash windows.
- Application of weathershield paint system was applied to all timber areas.

Background

Barry Stewart and Sons were delighted to have won this tender for this project at Dreadnought Library. Dreadnought Library is one of a number of historic buildings associated with the Greenwich Naval College.

Dreadnought Library is extensively used by students throughout the university, creating a vibrant corner of the campus.

Benefits

- The project was completed to programme as not to cause inconvenience to any visitors, staff or students.
- The external decoration has enhanced the appearance of the library.
